r. 35

(1ab) In subregulation (2)(a), (b), (c), (f) and (g) —

“person” includes —

(a) if the person is a member of, or otherwise concerned in the management of, a firm that holds a licence — the firm; and

(b) if the person is a director of, or otherwise concerned in the management of, a body corporate that holds a licence — the body corporate.

35. Regulation 47A amended

After regulation 47A(1) the following subregulation is inserted —

“(1a) In subregulation (1)(a), (d), (g) and (h) —

“person” includes —

(b) if the person is a director of, or otherwise concerned in the management of, a body corporate that holds a licence — the body corporate.

36. Regulation 47B inserted

After regulation 47A the following regulation is inserted in Part 4 —

“47B. Effect of, and revocation of, suspension

(1) During any period for which an electrical contractor’s licence is suspended under these regulations, the holder
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 37

is not authorised to carry on business as an electrical contractor under the licence except that, where a suspension is expressed to be of a limited nature, the authority conferred by the licence is affected only to the extent specified.

(2) Subject to subregulation (3), the Board may, by order in writing sent to the holder of a suspended electrical contractor’s licence at the holder’s last known address, revoke the suspension of the licence either wholly or to the limited extent specified in the order, and the revocation has effect according to its tenor from the date specified in the order.

(3) The Board cannot to any extent revoke a suspension that was imposed by an order of the State Administrative Tribunal unless it has applied for, and obtained, the approval of the State Administrative Tribunal to do so.

37. Regulation 49 amended

(1) Regulation 49(1) is amended as follows:

(a) by deleting “An electrical worker” and inserting instead —

“ A person ”;

(b) by deleting “the Standards Association of Australia” and inserting instead — “ Standards Australia ”.

(2) After regulation 49(1) the following subregulation is inserted —

“ (1a) If —

(a) an amendment (the “SA amendment”) is published by Standards Australia to a standard referred to in subregulation (1); and
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 37

(b) there is no corresponding amendment to the WA Electrical Requirements within the period of 6 months after the day on which the SA amendment is published, the SA amendment has effect for the purposes of subregulation (1) on the expiry of that period.

(3) Regulation 49(2) is amended by deleting “Where” and inserting instead —

“ Subject to subregulation (1a), if ”.

(4) After regulation 49(2) the following subregulation is inserted —

(2a) The Director may, in relation to electrical work to be carried out on an electrical installation of a consumer —

(a) vary the requirements referred to in subregulation (1); or

(b) specify that one or more of those requirements do not apply; or

(c) specify that one or more requirements apply in addition to those requirements, and, for the purposes of subregulation (1), those requirements have effect accordingly.

Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 38

38. Regulations 49A and 49B inserted

After regulation 49 the following regulations are inserted —

“49A. Designers of electrical installation to ensure design is safe etc.

A person who designs an electrical installation is to ensure that —

(a) the electrical installation is designed to be safe and to comply with any relevant requirement referred to in regulation 49(1); and

(b) if the person gives the design to another person who is to give effect to it, the design is accompanied by information about the way the electrical installation is to be installed to ensure the installation is safe.

49B. Electrical work to be carried out to safe standard and completed to trade finish

(1) To the extent practicable and reasonable, a person is to ensure that when electrical work has been carried out by him or her —

(a) the thing on which the work was performed is safe to use; and

(b) the work has been completed to a trade finish.

(2) Subregulation (1)(a) is taken to be complied with if the electrical work has been carried out in accordance with —

(a) the requirements referred to in regulation 49(1)(a) and (b); and

(b) the requirements of each relevant standard (if any) referred to in regulation 49(1).”
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

39. Regulation 50 amended

(1) Regulation 50(2) is amended as follows:
   (a) by deleting “licensed” and inserting instead —
       “authorised by a licence or permit”;
   (b) after “supervision” by inserting — “or if the person carrying out the electrical work is not required under these regulations to be authorised by a licence or permit to carry it out”.

(2) Regulation 50(3)(a) is amended by deleting “licensed” and inserting instead —
    “authorised by a licence or permit”.

(3) After regulation 50(4) the following subregulation is inserted — “An electrical worker who is an apprentice or who is undergoing a course of training may refuse to carry out any electrical work that, having regard to the supervision under which it is being carried out, the electrical worker reasonably considers to be electrical work —
    (a) that he or she is not competent to carry out; or
    (b) that would, or would likely, endanger him or her or another person.”.
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

40. Regulations 50AA and 50AB inserted

After regulation 50 the following regulations are inserted —

50AA. Requirement to be informed of experience and competence of apprentices etc.

(1) In this regulation —

“electrical worker in training” means an electrical worker who is an apprentice or who is undergoing a course of training;

“person employing an electrical worker in training” includes a person who, by arrangement with the employer of an electrical worker in training, is making use of the services of the electrical worker, whether or not the arrangement is principally for the purpose of training the electrical worker;

“supervising electrical worker” has the meaning given in regulation 50(3).

(2) A person employing an electrical worker in training is to ensure that, before the electrical worker carries out any electrical work, the person and the supervising electrical worker are informed of the experience and level of competence of the electrical worker in training in carrying out electrical work.

(3) A supervising electrical worker is to ensure that, before an electrical worker in training carries out any electrical work under his or her supervision, the supervising electrical worker is informed of the experience and level of competence of the electrical worker in training in carrying out electrical work.
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

50AB. Employer to be satisfied that former apprentice has successfully completed training

A person (the “employer”) is not to employ to carry out electrical work another person (the “former apprentice”) —

(a) who holds an electrician’s training licence; and
(b) who purports to have completed the apprenticeship or course of training relevant to that licence, unless the employer has taken all reasonable steps to be satisfied that the former apprentice has successfully completed the apprenticeship or course of training and has applied for an electrician’s licence.

41. Regulation 50A amended

Regulation 50A is amended as follows:

(a) before “A” by inserting the subregulation designation “(1)”;
(b) at the end of the regulation by inserting the following subregulation —

“(2) It is a defence in proceedings for an offence under subregulation (1) for the person charged to prove that —

(a) the person did not carry out the electrical work concerned; and
(b) as soon as practicable after becoming aware that the wiring or equipment was in an unsafe condition the person took reasonable steps to try to have it disconnected or repaired; and
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 42

(c) the owner or occupier of the premises where the wiring or equipment is located would not permit it to be disconnected or repaired.

42. Regulation 51 amended

(1) Regulation 51(1) is repealed and the following subregulation is inserted instead —

"(1) Subject to subregulation (2), an electrical contractor who carries out any notifiable work, or causes any notifiable work to be carried out, commits an offence unless preliminary notice of the proposed notifiable work is prepared by the electrical contractor and delivered to the relevant network operator at the required time.

(2) Regulation 51(2) is amended by deleting “electrical installing” and inserting instead —

"notifiable “.

(3) Regulation 51(3) is amended as follows:

(a) by deleting the definition of “electrical installing work”;

(b) in the definition of “the required time”, by deleting “electrical installing” in each place where it occurs and inserting instead —

“notifiable “.

43. Regulation 52 amended

(1) Regulation 52(1) is repealed and the following subregulations are inserted instead —

"(1) Subject to subregulation (2), an electrical contractor who carries out any notifiable work, or causes any notifiable work to be carried out, commits an offence unless, within the period of 3 days after the completion of the notifiable work, a notice of completion, in a form approved by the Director and duly completed, is prepared by the electrical contractor in respect of the notifiable work and delivered to the relevant network operator.

(1a) An electrical contractor who fails to keep a copy of the notice of completion for the period of 5 years after the completion of the notifiable work commits an offence.

(2) Regulation 52(2) is amended by deleting “electrical installing” and inserting instead —

“notifiable”.

(3) After regulation 52(2) the following subregulation is inserted —

“(2a) A notice of completion is to contain a declaration, signed or executed by the electrical contractor who prepared the notice of completion, that the notifiable work to which the notice applies has been checked and tested and is safe and complies with these regulations.”

(4) Regulation 52(3) is amended by deleting “electrical installing” and inserting instead —

“notifiable”.

(5) Regulation 52(4) is repealed.
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 44

44. Regulations 52A, 52B and 52C inserted

After regulation 52 the following regulations are inserted —

"52A. Notices sent to relevant network operator

(1) In this regulation —

“notice of completion” means a notice of completion under regulation 52.

“preliminary notice” means preliminary notice under regulation 51;

(2) Without limiting the Interpretation Act 1984 sections 75 and 76, preliminary notice or a notice of completion may be delivered to the relevant network operator —

(a) by facsimile transmission to a facsimile number provided by the network operator; or

(b) by a means of electronic communication approved by the Director.

(3) If an electrical contractor delivers a notice under subregulation (2)(a) or (b), the notice is to be regarded as having been signed or executed by the electrical contractor if the electrical contractor’s name appears in the appropriate place in the notice.

(4) If the relevant network operator is given a notice by an electrical contractor under subregulation (2)(b), the network operator is to give to the electrical contractor a receipt, which, without limiting the Interpretation Act 1984 sections 75 and 76, may be given by a means of electronic communication approved by the Director.

(5) A person who gives preliminary notice or a notice of completion that the person knows to be false or misleading commits an offence.
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

52B. Certificates of compliance

(1) Subject to subregulations (3) and (5), an electrical contractor who carries out any electrical installing work, or causes any electrical installing work to be carried out, commits an offence unless, within the period of 28 days after the completion of the electrical installing work, a certificate of compliance, in a form approved by the Director and duly completed, is prepared by the electrical contractor in respect of the electrical installing work and delivered to the person for whom the work was carried out.

(2) An electrical contractor who fails to keep a copy of the certificate of compliance for the period of 5 years after the completion of the electrical installing work commits an offence.

(3) Subregulation (1) does not apply to in-house electrical installing work carried out under the authority of an in-house electrical installing work licence.

(4) A certificate of compliance is not duly completed unless —
   (a) it is completed by the relevant electrical contractor or, if subregulation (5) applies, by the electrical worker; and
   (b) it is given an identifying number that is not given to any other certificate of compliance given by or on behalf of the electrical contractor; and
   (c) it states the number of the electrical contractor’s licence and, if subregulation (5) applies, the number of the electrical worker’s licence or permit; and
   (d) it describes clearly and accurately the electrical installing work to which it applies and states the address where that work was carried out and the date on which that work was completed; and (e) it certifies that the electrical installing work to which it applies has been checked and tested and is safe and complies with these regulations;
and
(f) it is signed or executed by the electrical contractor or, if subregulation (5) applies, it is signed by the electrical worker.

(5) A licensed electrical worker who —
(a) is an employee of an electrical contractor; and
(b) is given written authority, in a form approved by the Director, by the electrical contractor, may complete a certificate of compliance on behalf of the electrical contractor.

(6) If requested to do so by the person for whom the electrical installing work is carried out, a person authorised under subregulation (5) is to produce his or her authority to complete the certificate of compliance.

(7) A person who gives a certificate of compliance that the person knows to be false or misleading commits an offence.

52C. Duties of electrical contractor in relation to electrical installing work and electrical workers

(1) An electrical contractor who carries out electrical installing work, or causes electrical installing work to be carried out, is to ensure that —
(a) any electrician employed or engaged by the electrical contractor to carry out any of the electrical installing work has had appropriate

49. Regulation 62 amended

Regulation 62(1) is repealed and the following subregulation is inserted instead —

“(1) Subject to subregulation (2), if it appears to an electrical worker carrying out electrical work on any electrical installation or electrical equipment that there is a defect in the installation or equipment that renders the installation or equipment unsafe, the electrical worker is as soon as is practicable —

(a) to report the matter to the owner or occupier of the premises where the installation or equipment is located and inform the owner or occupier that the matter is required to be reported as provided in paragraph (b); and

(b) to report the matter —

(i) to the relevant network operator; or
(ii) if the electrical worker is unable to identify the relevant network operator — to the Director.”
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 50

50. Regulation 63 replaced

Regulation 63 is repealed and the following regulation is inserted instead —

“63. Electrical accidents to be reported

(1) In this regulation —

“electrical accident” means an accident —

(a) that results from a sudden discharge of electricity or that otherwise has, or is likely to have, an electrical origin; and

(b) that causes, or is likely to cause, danger to life, a shock or injury to a person or loss of or damage to property;

“employee” includes a person engaged under a contract for services;

“employer” includes a person who engages another person under a contract for services.

(2) Subject to subregulations (4), (5) and (6), immediately after a person becomes aware that an electrical accident has taken place, the person is to report the accident —

(a) to the relevant network operator; or

(b) if the person is unable to identify the relevant network operator — to the Director.

(3) Subject to subregulation (7), immediately after a network operator becomes aware that an electrical accident has taken place (by being given a report under subregulation (2) or otherwise), the network operator is to report the accident to the Director.

(4) Immediately after an employee becomes aware that an electrical accident has taken place at the employee’s workplace, he or she is to report the accident to the
Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 51

employer concerned and the employer is then to comply with subregulation (2).

(5) It is a defence to a charge under subregulation (2) (as read with regulation 65(1)) for the person charged to prove that, at the relevant time, the person believed on reasonable grounds that the accident had already been reported to the relevant network operator or to the Director (as the case requires) by another person.

(6) It is a defence to a charge under subregulation (4) (as read with regulation 65(1)) for the person charged to prove that, at the relevant time, the person believed on reasonable grounds that the accident had already been reported to the employer concerned by another person.

(7) A network operator is not required to report to the Director that an electrical accident has taken place if —

(a) the electrical accident is a notifiable incident of which the Director is required to be given a notification under the Electricity (Supply Standards and System Safety) Regulations 2001 regulation 35(1)(a); and

(b) the network operator has given the required notification to the Director.

(8) Nothing in this regulation requires the Director to report that an electrical accident has taken place.

(b) for a body corporate, a fine of $250 000.

54. Regulation 65A inserted

After regulation 65 the following regulation is inserted —

“ 65A. Offences by members of firms

(1) If —

(a) a firm that holds an electrical contractor’s licence does or omits to do anything; and

(b) an individual who holds an electrical contractor’s licence who did or omitted to do the thing would commit an offence under these regulations, each member of the firm is taken to have committed the offence.

Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 55

(2) It is a defence to a charge of an offence referred to in subregulation (1) for a member of a firm to prove —
   (a) that the offence was committed without the member’s consent or connivance; and
   (b) that the member took all the measures to prevent the commission of the offence that he or she could reasonably be expected to have taken having regard to the member’s functions and to all the circumstances.

55. Regulation 67 replaced

Regulation 67 is repealed and the following regulation is inserted instead —

67. Saving and transitional provisions

(1) In this regulation —
   “commencement day” means the day on which the Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007 regulation 55 comes into operation.

(2) A person who, immediately before the commencement day, was the holder of an “A” grade licence, a “C” grade licence or a restricted licence continues, on and after the commencement day and subject to these regulations, to be authorised to carry out the electrical work that the person was authorised by that licence to carry out before that commencement.

(3) A provision of these regulations that —
   (a) apart from this subregulation, would cease to have effect or would have a modified effect on the commencement day; and Electricity (Licensing) Amendment Regulations 2007

r. 56

(b) is required to continue to have the effect it had immediately before the commencement day for the purposes of subregulation (2), continues to have that effect for those purposes.

(4) Subject to these regulations, on the expiry of the registration of a licence listed in column 1 of the Table to this regulation that was in force immediately before the commencement day, that registration may be renewed, and the licence then has effect, as if the licence were a licence listed in the corresponding position in column 2 of that Table.

(5) When the registration of a licence is renewed in accordance with subregulation (4), the licence is to be subject to any restrictions or conditions that are necessary for the licence to authorise to be carried out only the electrical work that was authorised to be carried out by the licence immediately before the registration expired.
